PRINCE'S BENARES VISIT.

NATIVES SWARM STREETS.

HIGH GAME SHOOTING TRIP.

LONDON, December 13.

The Prince of Wales visited Benares for a few hours on Tuesday en route to Nepal for a week for big game shooting as a private guest. He made a trip on the Ganges and was greatly impressed by the wonderful panorama of the famous ghats, crowned temples, shrines, and palaces. He visited the Hindu University, receiving the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature. A brawl was proclaimed but resulted in complete failure, only a few shops in the bazaar district keeping shut and the natives swarming the streets to see the Prince. This was a striking contrast to what happened at Allahabad the day before and is characteristic of the vagueness of the Indian unrest.

CHINA'S FOREIGN POST OFFICE IS

PRIVILEGES RELINQUISHED.

EFFICIENT CHINESE SERVICE PROMISED.

WASHINGTON, December 13.

A communique states that a resolution was adopted by the Far Eastern committee agreeing to the abandonment of foreign postal agencies in China subject to maintenance of efficient Chinese postal service and an assurance that the Government does not contemplate a change in the postal administration or status of the foreign co-director general, the arrangement to come on January 1, 1923, the four powers meanwhile affording examination facilities for the Chinese customs.

SIBERIAN ROUTE.

Mr. Alfred See said that China undertook to handle the increased foreign mail matter with the same efficiency by making requisite additions to the personnel and equipment. Steps would be taken to arrange for transportation over the Siberian route when it was reopened. China would hold herself responsible for an uninterrupted service upon the Chinese controlled railways.

INFLUENCE SPHERES.

Wireless stations were also discussed and the debate was postponed. Mr. Wang said that it was gratifying to know the United States and Britain strongly expressed their views against continuance of spheres of interest in China. Claims for such spheres had given rise to much misunderstanding and giving on the part of the Chinese people. The spheres hampered China's economic development and prevented equal opportunity for all. They endangered China's political integrity and produced international friction. The delegation therefore asked the powers represented to disavow all claims to spheres of interest and influence or special interests in China. Discussion was postponed and the committee adjourned until December 14.

WIRELESS.

PARIS, December 13.

A message from Washington states that in the Far Eastern committee M. Viviani introduced a resolution emphasising the necessity of superseding competition by co-operation in the establishment of wireless communications between China and other countries. He urged the appointment of an international committee including China to achieve that end, especially having in mind the equipment of the most modern plant as soon as possible. The resolution provides that internal wireless shall be operated in accordance with Chinese law and that foreign communications shall be dealt with by an international convention. It lays down that the governments interested shall not support concerns not complying with the committee's basic principles. Government and press messages shall be granted at least a 50 per cent. reduction.

JAPANESE MORE CONCILIATORY.

Furthermore, it is reported that in yesterday's Chinese and Japanese conversations the Japanese displayed a more conciliatory attitude regarding the Kiao Chow-Tsinan railway and agreed to discuss how to proceed with the evacuation of the railway. It is now confidently stated that a feeling of optimism has replaced the earlier misgiving as regards the Chinese and Japanese pourparlers.

WIDESPREAD INDIAN UNREST.

POLITICAL SITUATION GRAVE.

FEELINGS OF DISQUIET IN LONDON.

LONDON, December 13.

The gravity of the political situation in India brought home by the latest dispatches has aroused feelings of disquiet here. The development of the non-co-operation movement has necessitated the arrest of over 500 Gandhists at Calcutta in connection with prevention of the picketing nuisance, besides over 50 at Delhi on a charge of belonging to an unlawful association and a number of others at Allahabad and elsewhere. It has been generally expected that the serious stage would be reached after the meeting of the Indian National Congress at Ahmedabad in this Christmas week when it was intended to proclaim home rule and inaugurate civil disobedience, but the movement has been precipitated by the action of the provincial governments in declaring illegal the Congress and Caliphate "volunteers," who by intimidatory methods have compelled hitherto and boycotts which have just been applied with indisputable success on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' visit to Allahabad.

"UTTERLY FUTILE."

In addition to the arrests referred to a Delhi message states that three districts in Burma, including Rangoon, have been proclaimed under the seditious meetings act. More moderate minded Indians are undoubtedly alarmed at the turn of events, and according to a Calcutta message, four prominent native members of the Imperial Legislative Assembly have made a statement declaring the Government's repressive policy utterly futile for dealing with the widespread discontent and excesses which they deplore. They urge both sides to call a halt in order to prevent a course of action which it persisted in will produce anarchy and disaster. They press the Government to formulate a constructive policy which will recognise rapid changes.

IRISH PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

ULSTER CORRESPONDENCE PUBLISHED.

LONDON, December 13.

The Ulster correspondence reveals that Craig proposed the creation of two dominions in Ireland with voluntary contributions to the imperial services.

The Premier rejected this "counter proposal" on the ground that the creation of two dominions in Ireland, one of 26 and the other of six counties, would fundamentally change the existing system of imperial organization.

Sir James retorted that to enter the conference on the condition of agreeing to the establishment of an all-Ireland parliament would be dishonest as Ulster would never accept a position of permanent subordination to Sinn Fein. Sir James Craig accepted the invitation to confer with the Premier but demanded publication of the correspondence before the assembly of the Ulster Parliament on November 29 in order to demonstrate that Ulster had not refused to enter the conference but the Sinn Feiners had declined to let them participate except in a subordinate position.

The Premier replied enclosing the Irish agreement and pointing out Ulster's alternatives.

DIVIDED CHINA.

UNION ESSENTIAL.

LONDON, December 13.

Speaking at the Aldwych Club, Mr. Chao Hsin Gan, the Chinese Charge d'Affaires, referring to China's political troubles, said that no separation of North and South would be allowed. The Chinese people at large were working for union which was most essential for prosperity. He claimed that China had progressed under the new regime. China offered to keep her doors open and give equal opportunity to all the treaty powers with justice. China was the key to the peace not only of the Far East but of the whole world.

VISITING PARIS.

PARIS, December 13.

General Velpkhan, Afghan envoy extraordinary and head of the Afghan mission, had an audience with M. Millerand. The Japanese Prince Kuniyoshi arrived here from London.

A DAMN FINE TIME.DIARY OF HIGH LIFE.*GIRL'S NOVEL DEFENCE.The defence put forward by a girl of eighteen years at the Old Bailey to a charge of attempted blackmail was that she wished to obtain £10 for the defence of a criminal with whom she had been associating.The accused was Minnie Florence Archer, and she pleaded "Guilty" to sending a letter to Georges Wirz, a chief at the place where she was employed, demanding £10 with menaces. She alleged that Wirz had been carrying on with one of the other girls—an allegation which her counsel said was entirely without foundation, and which she now unreservedly withdrew.A police officer stated that Archer was a well-educated girl. Her parents were very respectable people and were now living in Norfolk. She had become infatuated with a plausible young criminal named Leonard Fredericks, now serving a sentence of nine months' imprisonment for fraud, and the police had every reason to believe that she wanted the £10 to assist him in his defence.In a letter written from an hotel at Margate in August she had written to a girl friend:—"Married on Monday and came down to Margate. Having a damn fine time. We came down with £27 and now have 1s. 4d. Len has gone out for the night to win a motor-cycle. We have two lovely rooms overlooking the sea. Living rent free, too. Cunning rogues, aren't we?
She signed herself "M. F. Draper."
The officer added that Fredericks had posed as Lord Hill and Lord Lee.
He handed up two diaries kept by Archer, and Mr. Justice Darling kept the following extracts:—November 8, 1919.—Heard from Billy and met him in the evening.
Went to Victoria and got drunk.
July, 1921.—Billy's birthday, 45.
Witness said he understood "Billy" was a married man.In another letter from a boarding-house in Norfolk she wrote:—"I have got a chap down here and it is wicked to see how he throws his money about. I am sick to death of "chocs" and ice. Last night W.
and I got half-way home and then went to sleep on the beach drunk as lords."Mr. Purchase, for the defence, said that Archer was not married to Fredericks, and that "accomplished secondhand" had induced her to try to get money to defend him. She had no idea that she was committing a grave criminal offence in sending the letter to Mr. Wirz.£50,000,000 TRADE PUSH.*BRITISH EXHIBITIONS ALL OVER THE WORLD.British traders are organising a £50,000,000 scheme for placing samples of their goods in every market throughout the world.The first of more than 150 sample exhibitions will be begun immediately at Brussels, to be followed by others
at Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Copenhagen, Madrid, Stockholm, Tokyo, Bombay, Calcutta, Johannesburg, and Colombo (Ceylon). This network of sample showrooms will have managers and staffs to introduce British goods of all kinds to buyers.Each exhibition will be permanent.
Manufacturers will be able to purchase stands through the Federation of British Industries at a minimum cost of £20, and the goods will be changed as often as the exhibitor requires. Periodically the scheme will be advertised extensively, with a view to attracting as many buyers to the shows as possible.The total value of the goods to be shown when the scheme is complete will be £50,000,000 to £60,000,000, each exhibition containing at least £250,000 worth of articles showing the best British workmanship and skill.Mr. Justice Darling told the prisoner she had pleaded guilty to an offence which rendered her liable to be sent to penal servitude for life."Like a good many young women now, I am afraid, you have given yourself up to the pursuit of pleasure."
His lordship then bound her over in the sum of £20 to come up for judgment if called upon, and told the wardress to hand her over to her mother.Marie Brown, also 18, who admitted copying out the letter to Wirz for Archer, was acquitted by the jury.
Mr. Justice Darling ordered her to remain in the dock whilst he addressed Archer, and in discharging her said she had done a "scandalous and wicked thing which might have become the ruin of Mr. Wirz."THE LOVE-THIEF.*CHARMING YOUNG MAN AND A WALK IN THE WOODS.A girl was displaying her wonderful sapphire and diamond rings at tea-time in a fashionable Berlin hotel.
She dropped her handkerchief, and a handsome young man at the next table picked it up. They began to talk.
The young man was so charming that the girl promised to go for a walk with him next day. So she did, and also on the following day.Later the two wandered hand in hand through the golden woods of Grünevald. Suddenly a ruffian stepped out from the trees and shot the man dead—at least, so the girl thought. She was thankful to escape with her life at the cost of her diamond and sapphire rings which the ruffian stole.She hurried for the police and brought them to the spot where her lover had fallen. There was no trace of the unhappy man. The police afterwards found him in a nursing home, where he said he was being treated for nerve shock.In fact he was quite well, and under pressure confessed that the whole occurrence was a comedy of thieves.
The ruffian in the wood was his confederate and his weapon was a toy pistol loaded with a percussion cap.The China Mail s.s. "Nanking" sailed from this port to San Francisco via wayports with a record first class passenger list of 156 passengers and 223 stowage and a fairly good cargo. This is another record by this vessel for a large passenger list. Among the prominent passengers from this port are Mr. Stowbridge, who is an attorney-at-law at Portland, Oregon, returning to the United States
after a business trip to the East;
Mr. Raines, a member of the staff of Messrs. Thos. Cook & Son, who is proceeding to Yokohama on Company's business; Mr. H. H. van Ketel, who is proceeding to Kobe to take his position in the firm of the Netherlands India Commercial Bank
as accountant; Mr. and Mrs. W. H.
Orndall who are returning to the States after a short visit to the East; and Mrs. Leach, the wife of the Doctor of the s.s. "Nanking," returning home after a short visit to the East.THE BEST COUGH MEDICINE.CHAMBERLAIN'S Cough Remedy is

EX-GERMAN SHIPS SOLD.

LONDON, December 13th. It is officially stated that sixteen ex-German ships have been sold to British buyers. Four prize steamers were also sold at prices which are considered very satisfactory in view of the state of the market. Lord Incheape has now disposed of all the 465 ex-German vessels allocated to him, except one.

ANOTHER SHIPPING COLLAPSE.

LONDON, December 13th. Another shipping collapse is announced at Cardiff. The Stilla Shipping Company's whole capital of £300,000 has been lost.

LOVE TRAGEDY.

ONE LAST HOUR OF HAPPINESS.

A typical love tragedy took place on board the "Mikuma-maru," which plies between Higo and Awaji. A young man named Fujiwara Kiyoshi, a clerk employed in Kobe, developed a talent for music, and gave up clerkdom for the profession of teaching the biwa. He took a room in the neighbourhood of Shinkaiichi for this purpose and had a number of pupils. Among them was a young geisha whose professional name was Miyokoma. She was seventeen years old, and an enthusiastic musician, and it was doubtless with a view to increasing her value that her owner allowed her to visit the young man's house. The inevitable happened. They fell in love. But it was only in September that Miyokoma had been sold to her present owner for a good sum in hard cash and was bound to serve him for five years. Five years is a long time when one is seventeen, and is longer still in the life of a geisha. It was impossible to face such a disastrous probation, and teaching the biwa, though Fujiwara's chosen profession, had no money in it. Those who want money must not devote themselves to music or to love. So the little girl slipped out of the house of bondage and met her lover, and they went over to Awaji for a last brief holiday. It was nearly midnight when the last boat left. Together they crept to a quiet corner, and when the boat was well away from shore, they jumped hand in hand into the dark waters, trusting that in some other world they might find human love unforbidden by human greed. Such things happen almost daily in Japan. Their disappearance was not noticed till on the arrival of the boat at Hyogo, their trifling belongings were found and it was remembered that a young man and woman had boarded the boat at Iwaya. (Japan Chronicle).

GENESIS IN SCOTS.

The following extract from the Mosaic story of Pharaoh's butler and baker, and the interpretation of their dreams by Joseph, is taken from "Genesis in Scots," by Henry P. Cameron (Alexander Gardner).—And it came about after this things, that the skinker o' the king o' Egypt and his baxter mieldik their lord the king o' Egypt. And Pharo was wud agane his twa officers, agane the heid o' the skinkers, and agane the heid o' the baxters. And he put thame in thor i' the hoose o' the capitan o' the gaird, intill the presoun, th' bit whaur Joseph was bun. And the capitan o' the gaird charge't Joseph wi' thame, and he set thame; and they contena't a saizon in thlor. And they drem'd a drema baith o' thame, ilk man his drema, in a nicht, ilk man accordin to the upleoin o' his drema, the skinker and the baxter o' the king o' Egypt, wha war bun i' the presoun. And Joseph cam in ontill thame i' the mornin, and saw thame, and lo, they war dowie. And he frayed Pharo's officers that war wi' him in thor in his master's hoose, sayan, Whaurfor dae ye luek sae thair the day? And quo' they till him, We hae drem'd a drema, and thar is nane that row uplos it. And quo' Joseph till thame, Diona uplosin effor till God? mooth it till me, I besell yo. The author points out in a short preface that he has translated the Book of Genesis into Scots because "There's a try in many lands for the truth! the mither tongue."

WIZ'RD OF THE TUBES.

POWER OF ONE MAN IN AN UPPER ROOM.

Few of the 44,000 passengers per hour who travel on the London Tubes know that at Leicester Square in an upstairs room, sits a young man who can control their underground movements by a mere push of the thumb. He is in immediate touch with 22 stations at once, and in case of misadventure can manipulate a 600-line main switchboard and a separate 60-line private board of his own.

Suppose, for instance, fog comes on, or a great rainfall. Down go the crowds into the Tubes. Congestion follows. The genius at Leicester Square gets to work. The various depots would be immediately spoken to, and every wheel available could be turned out to the relief within a matter of minutes.

EMERGENCY STAFF READY.

Suppose a tramcar section breaks down. To the Tubes go the public. The Leicester Square man sends relief to the locality.

When a sudden rush at one point occurs, not only trains but staff are needed. The controller had 45 emergency men scattered all over the 57 miles of line. In a twinkling they are making for the congested stations. Are booking clerks needed, there are 20 extras at various stations. The tinkling telephone speeds them also on their way.

WONDERFUL CONTRIVANCES.

By means of marvellous contrivances the Leicester Square genius can tell as each train passes through fixed stations on the various tubes. For instance, fix a plug in this slot and then watch the indicator. Click! a train has gone through, say, Piccadilly Circus, westward. The seconds tick off. He can tell exactly how long it is before the next goes through. Thus he can regulate intervals.

He has also instruments at control which will enable him to detect where a leakage of current is taking place, or through what train it is occurring. In short, this wizard of the square jerks all underground travellers into orderly routine by a mere push of the plug.

Corns, Calluses Ended Quickly!

Two Drops of "Gats-It" Will Do It.

Ever carve your toe with a knife trying to get rid of corns? Ever use scissors and snip off part of the corn too close to the "quick"? Ever pack up your toes with "contraptions" and plasters as though you were making a glass vase for a toilet post? Ever use kerosene ointments that rub off on your stockings? Ever use sticky tape that is broken off when you pull your stockings on? Rather foolish, when 2 or 3 drops of "Gats-It" on any corn or callus gives it a quick, painless, peaceful, certain removal. Why suffer? "Gats-It" stops corn pains, it lets you work, smile and dance, even with corns. It is the common-sense way, the only simple, easy way—painless corns off like a banana skin. Used by millions. It never fails.

"Gats-It" Puts Your Feet in Clover—It Ends Corns Quickly.

SHY BRIDEGROOM.

MARRIED AFTER A FALSE START.

A shy bridegroom stopped his marriage ceremony in a London registrar office with the dramatic exclamation, "I can't go through with this; it's all such a farce." The registrar asked for an explanation, but without giving one the couple left the office unmarried.

Previously the man had been to the office three times before he could pluck up courage to take out the licence. On the third occasion he was accompanied by his fiancée, who really settled the matter.

Two hours after the interrupted ceremony the couple reappeared and asked the registrar if he would begin the service again, the bridegroom apologising for the previous interruption, and saying he had made up his mind to be married.

The registrar began again, and had to repeat the marriage vow three times to the bridegroom before the latter could be persuaded to repeat the words audibly.

When the ceremony had ended the couple hurriedly left the office.

QUADRUPLE AGREEMENT SIGNED.

AMERICA'S RESERVATIONS.

HISTORIC EVENT LACKS CEREMONY.

LONDON, December 13.

The quadruple agreement regarding the Pacific has been signed at Washington.

WASHINGTON, December 13.

The United States gave its approval to the quadruple treaty subject to a written understanding with Japan that the Yap convention must be consummated before the treaty becomes a binding treaty.

The treaty contains two American reservations, the first reserving the right to negotiate separately with mandatory powers on the subject of Pacific islands, and the second declaring that domestic affairs are not within the scope of the treaty.

No ceremony accompanied the signature of the treaty which took place in the ante room of the offices of the Secretary of State. Only the plenipotentiaries with their secretaries and advisers were present. The Americans signed first the powers following alphabetically. Mr. Balfour signed twice—once for the Empire and once for South Africa.

ANGLO-PERSIAN OIL DIVIDEND.

YEAR'S PROFITS £4,000,000.

LONDON, December 14.

The Anglo-Persian Oil Company recommend an ordinary dividend of 2 per cent. The year's profits amounted to £4,000,000.

DANGEROUS FIREBRAND.

WASHINGTON, December 14.

The irreconcilable Senator La Follette has made a statement that Pacific treaty has all the iniquities of the League of Nations without any of its virtues. He says that he is determined to do his utmost to prevent its ratification.

A GREAT STEP FORWARD.

BRUSSELS, December 13.

The newspapers consider the quadruple agreement a great step forward. The Metropole (Antwerp) emphasises that China has special reason to rejoice in view of the Conference's pledge to respect the sovereign independence, territorial integrity, and neutrality of China.

REDUCED AMERICAN NAVY.

NEW YORK, December 14.

Orders have been received by the New York navy yard indicating that the personnel of the navy will be reduced by 10,000.

SIR EDGAR SPEYER DISGRACED.

DISLOYALTY DURING THE WAR.

LONDON, December 13.

The Gazette announces that Sir Edgar Speyer's letters of naturalisation have been revoked and his privy councillorship cancelled. Sir Edgar Speyer departed for America at the outbreak of the war.

LATER.

The Gazette announces that the committee of enquiry which for the past month has been considering the case found Speyer had (1) shown disloyalty to the King by act and speech; and (2) during the war had communicated with enemy nationals associated with business which he knew assisted the enemy. The Gazette adds that the finding does not reflect on any of the other partners of the firm of Speyer Brothers.

THE LEAGUE OF FELLOWSHIP.

"Sir," said Mr. Tupman, "You're a fellow!"

"Sir," said Mr. Pickwick, "You're another!"

Ch. XV. Pickwick Papers.)

The day the League of Fellowship was formed, I said with joy No more will social quarrelling my gentle soul annoy, The ink within my fountain-pen no more shall reek of gall, Nor shall I find, as heretofore, men squabbling at all.

The C.R.A. its energies no longer will bestir, The Mayor and Corporation prize their District Officer; A lion-and-lamb millennium is bound to come, I trust, And poor old Adversarius will find his business bust.

But what is this they're saying in a press report I see? They're going agin the Government? 'o says Maconachie! No racial question shakes them (for the Peak is hardly such), But fellowship with Government! Well, that's a bit too much!

Moreover, as I read it, there is interecine strife, Dissension in their counsels would appear unduly rife. The "voices in the wilderness" are lifted in dispute, A little rift that bye-and-bye will make the music mute.

Fetch out the knuckle-duster! Get the dagger out of pawn! Yet one more scheme that promised well we now have got to mourn, And this shall be its epitaph, as we lay it on the shelf— "I reformed all other people. I forgot about myself!"

—E.W.H. in Daily Press.

AN UNDUTIFUL SON.

PREFERRED "WILD OATS" TO FAMILY OBSERVANCES.

Mr. Eldon Potter, counsel for the defendants in the Chinese will case now proceeding at the Supreme Court finished his exhaustive cross-examination of the plaintiff this morning.

Questioned about the ceremonies which took place annually in observance of his "first mother's" birthday, he said that he had taken into his father's house in 1901. Afterwards he corrected this and confessed that on some occasions he was away gambling at Macao. He was a habitual gambler, he said, and when the fun ran low he would sometimes gamble on horse racing. He said that he had taken into his father's house in 1901. Afterwards he corrected this and confessed that on some occasions he was away gambling at Macao. He was a habitual gambler, he said, and when the fun ran low he would sometimes gamble on horse racing.

ceremonies. Sometimes, if he had won, his lady friends detained him.

The Chief Justice (Sir William Ross Davies): It seems that he was keener on sowing his wild oats than on observing his "first mother's" birthday.

Mr. E. C. Jenkin (appearing with Mr. Potter for the defence) Yes and now he is reaping them.

Referring to an interview he had with his "first mother" after the action had been started, the plaintiff said that he told her he had "made a mistake" and that he did not want to trouble her any more. He did not, however, mean that in his heart; he only said it because he wanted to secure maintenance for his own mother.

The forthcoming marriage of Corporal E. Savage, R.A.M.C. Military Hospital, Bowen Road, to Mrs. Ruth Norbury, of Ross from England by the Rev. "Himalaya," is announced.

COLOURED NEWS.

GOVERNMENT PROPAGANDA DENOUNCED.

[China Mail Special.]

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.

The tendency of governments to use newspapers and news distributing agencies for the dissemination of propaganda was forcibly denounced by Dean Walter Williams of the University of Missouri as the guest of honour at aiffin held yesterday at the Carlton Cafe under the auspices of the pan-Pacific Association.

Mr. O. M. Green, Editor of the North China Daily News, who presided, added his denunciation. Numerous foreign and Chinese journalists were present.

Dean Russell, of Iowa University, spoke of new methods in vogue in America of educating children to read silently, rapidly and accurately.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Canton denies the rumour that it intends to lease its mint.

Canton primary school teachers have been granted increased pay.

A project is afoot in Canton to build an iron bridge over the Pearl River between Canton and Honam.

Three motor cars and a motor cycle were put up for auction by Messrs. Hughes and Hough to-day.

Mrs. Severn has kindly consented to distribute the Victoria British School prizes on Wednesday morning next.

Mr. T. H. Blouey, a well-known figure on the China Coast, who was harbour master at Antung for many years, has returned to China. He is now stationed at Shanghai, in civil employment.

According to the Canton Times, Canton has caught the disarmament infection. This month 30 per cent. of the Canton Army will be disbanded. The discharged soldiers are advised to take up agricultural pursuits.

A Singapore wire dated December 2 states:—On the complaint of Mr. F. Dowdeswell, architect in Government service, Mr. F. R. Smyth, an assistant to a local insurance company, was arrested on a warrant for enticing away the complainant's wife, Mrs. Jean Dowdeswell. Smyth was produced, in the Third Court, and remanded for a week, bail in $1,000 being granted.

The Christmas Concert, organised by Madame Lottie Gordon, which is due to take place to-morrow afternoon in the City Hall promises to be most successful. The object is a worthy one, as it is for the Xmas Gift Fund, for the Blind Home, Pokfulam and Home for the Aged. A most delightful programme has been arranged. In addition to many talented vocalists assisting, Madame Lottie Gordon will play (by special request) her own compositions, "Pouvoir d'Amour" (the Power of Love) and "Minuet in E," on a Chickering Grand Piano. It will be remembered that at Madame Gordon's last Concert, she was considerably handicapped by a stiff action piano. Mr. Edward Buschaert, the Belgian violinist, will play "souvenir" by Dr. Dria. Tickets are $2 reserved, and $1 unreserved, and the booking opens to-day.

THE HUMAN LUNGS.

MANY THINGS INHALED BESIDES AIR.

Do not throw rubber tips or the rubber tips on a pencil, because they are both deadly. The inhalation into the lung is soon followed by absorption and is frequently fatal.

This is the view of Dr. Chevalier Jackson, who is the director of the Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, the most famous institution in the United States for the removal of foreign bodies from the lungs. The hospital owns one of the strangest museums in the world. In it are nearly a thousand relics taken from living persons ranging from iron staples to a toy horse.

It is surprising to learn the length of time that foreign objects may be retained. One woman carried a glass collar button in her lung tissue for twenty-five years. She did not suffer any inconvenience for a long time. Then, in the opinion of Dr. Jackson, the button apparently began to develop incrustations of salts. It was removed, and the patient, although seemingly dying when admitted to the hospital, is now alive and well.

Pebbles and glass articles cause little reaction if they are smooth and free from sharp edges.

A careful study of the causes that led to the swallowing of the variety of objects now in the museum indicates that in virtually all cases the act was due to carelessness. In one instance, an infant only a few months old inhaled a piece of wool from a blanket, a fragment of button, some cotton, and a cherry stone.

Most of the operations for the removal of these objects are almost inconceivably swift. The articles are extracted by a bloodless method known as caisson work. This was developed by Dr. Jackson, and has resulted in the saving of many lives. It means the placing of a caisson box in a section of the lung to keep it inflated during an operation.

END OF A "JOKE".

HOMB OFFICE BETS A NEWSVENDOR FREE.

After serving two days of the six weeks hard labour to which he was sentenced by Mr. Mead, on October 25, a newsman, David Pollis, was on this following Thursday released from Brixton Prison by order of the Home Secretary.

Pollis was charged at Marlborough Street with obtaining a penny by false pretences by selling a "pamphlet" which purported to contain a record of Mr. Home Secretary's "good deeds and achievements" on behalf of ex-servicemen, wounded soldiers, sailors, cripples, widows and orphans.

The pamphlet was blank and Pollis said he was selling it only "as a joke." Prior to the Home Secretary's decision, Mr. Mead, the magistrate, had reduced the sentence to ten days, and in the court he said he considered the matter a serious one, because, although only a penny was obtained of a person who complained of being defrauded, he (Mr. Mead) understood that the pamphlets were being sold to such a considerable extent that a large number of people were being defrauded.

It was mentioned in court that solicitors had been instructed to appeal against the sentence, and that the instructions had been given by Reuben Bigland, the defendant in Mr. Bottomley's action for alleged libel.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

WHEN your child has whooping cough, be careful to keep the cough loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as may be required. This remedy will also liquefy the tough mucus and make it easier to expectorate. It has been used successfully in many epidemics and it contains no narcotic or other injurious substances. It is perfectly safe for sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

TO-MORROW AFTERNOON'S MEETING.

The Legislative Council meets again to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon. After the Hon. Colonial Secretary has tabled the financial minutes, and the report of the Finance Committee, the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., will ask the following question:—

When will the final Report on the census, which was taken last Spring, be published?

The Hon. Attorney General will move the first reading of a Bill to facilitate the reciprocal enforcement of judgments and awards in the Colony of Hongkong and in other parts of His Majesty's dominions and in certain other territories.

The Hon. Attorney General also moves the second reading of the Bill to amend further the Rents Ordinance, 1921, and second reading of the Bill to regulate the imposition of the penalty of stocks.

The second reading of the Bill to restrict the taking of legal proceedings in respect of certain acts and matters done during the war and to provide in certain cases remedies in substitution therefor will not be proceeded with at this meeting.

BRITISH LEGION.

THE LATEST MOVE.

The China Mail learns that as an outcome of the newspaper controversy which took place recently on the subject of British Legion membership a meeting of ex-servicemen is to be held next Sunday morning. The idea is, we are told, to form an organization of real dyed-in-the-wool trench comrades for purposes chiefly social. Legion members are to be invited to attend as the proceedings should be not without interest.

A CHEAP CHAUFFEUR

"Forty dollars!" was the astonished exclamation of the Puine Judge (Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz) after ascertaining from the unsuccessful defendant in a money lending case at the Summary Court that that amount represented his monthly wage as a chauffeur. "I didn't know," observed His Honour "that there were any such in the Colony. I wish there were more of them."

According to official Japanese figures, there is now under Japanese registry a total number of 2,933 steamers of 3,012,447 tons gross. Vessels ranging from 5,000 to 6,000 tons number no fewer than 114.

According to a Hamburg message, the 16,700-ton Hamburg-America liner "Hansa" ex-Victoria Luise and Deutschland sailed for New York. She is the first big liner which has started for New York carrying the German flag since the war.

NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA.

REPORT FOR THE HALF YEAR.

The 63rd report of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha (the Japan Mail Steamship Co., Ltd.) presented to the shareholders at the half-yearly ordinary general meeting held at Tokyo on Monday, November 28, was as follows:—

The net profit, after providing for the depreciation of the fleet, insurance and ships' structural repair funds, amounts to Yen 3,809,201.50, including Yen 478,188.80 brought forward from the last account.

Adding thereto Yen 2,800,000.00, the amount transferred from the Dividend equalization fund, we obtain a total surplus of Yen 6,609,201.50.

The Directors now propose that this surplus be appropriated as follows:—

Legal reserve fund	Yen 170,000.00
Directors' and auditors' fees	230,000.00
Dividend (10% per annum)	2,900,000.00
Extra dividend (10% per annum)	2,900,000.00
Total	Yen 6,200,000.00

leaving a balance of Yen 409,201.50 to be carried forward to the next account.

[The Company's fleet now consists of 102 vessels with a gross tonnage total of 517,090. With eight steamers building and 58 steam launches and tugs, the Company will have a total gross tonnage of 571,391.]

GENERAL NOTES.

Sir George Parley, High Commissioner for Canada, at Newcastle "christened" the Andania, the new 14,000 tons Cunard liner.

The old wooden three decker battleship "Impregnable," which was built at Pembroke Dock in 1860, has been towed from Plymouth to the Thames to be broken up.

An ordinary general meeting of the Nishin Kisen Kaisha held in its Tokyo office on Nov. 19 approved of a proposal for paying a 9 per cent. dividend for the current term.

There are very few signs of improvement in shipping at Glasgow or on the Clyde generally. A small number of vessels have been recommissioned recently, and have left for foreign ports, the majority of them in light trim, but there are still over forty cargo boats up in the river with little or no prospects of employment in the near future.

The North American shipping line is now in a chaotic condition. The Blue Funnel Line, Yamashita Kisen, Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, etc. continue to place ships on the line owing to the prosperous shipments of timber, wheat, etc. from the other side of the Pacific. The freight rate on timber is, therefore, inelastic. Outward shipments also are being captured by these companies to the no small detriment of the companies belonging to the Pacific Conference. To cope with the situation, the Allied companies will shortly decrease their freight rates.

SINGAPORE FUGITIVE.

TO GO BACK WILLINGLY.

David Tsou, alias Choi Chuen, a Straits-born Chinese, who is wanted in Singapore for the alleged embezzlement of $10,000 belonging to a British firm in that city, was again before Magistrate Wood this morning.

Mr. G. R. Haywood appeared for the fugitive, and said that he had advised his client not to put up a defence here as he would have to go to Singapore for his trial. Regarding a sum of $4,000 the fugitive had sunk in the United Motor Boat Company, said Mr. Haywood, he understood that the Crown and going to make an application for its possession. He wished in this connection to state that $300 of that money was provided by the fugitive's wife, and he was able to produce conclusive evidence to prove that. She would be without any means if that money was taken away, and Mr. Haywood asked the Magistrate not make any order with regard to that sum.

Mr. T. M. Hazlerigg, Assistant Crown Solicitor, admitted that it had been his intention to make such an application, but not that morning.

The Magistrate said that until he had heard Mr. Hazlerigg on the subject, he would make no order with regard to any money in the fugitive's possession.

Fugitive: I want to go back to Singapore as soon as possible.

Magistrate (to Mr. Hazlerigg): Is it not possible to send him back by mutual consent, in advance of the extradition requisition?

Mr. Hazlerigg: I think so. It has been done in other cases. The fugitive could go back of his own accord if he liked.

Magistrate: Will you make the necessary arrangements? It would save a lot of time and trouble.

Mr. Hazlerigg: Will your Worship give me time? Say a short remand for 24 hours?

The Magistrate said that he would remand the fugitive for a week, but if in the meantime an application was made for his deportation, he would grant it.

Mr. Haywood had no objection to the arrangement, but asked for permission for the fugitive's wife to visit him in jail. She had not been able to see him since the previous hearing.

Mr. Hazlerigg said that he had no objection. The reason why no one had been permitted to visit the fugitive was because it was thought that it was desirable, in his own interest, that he should not be seen until he had been identified by witnesses from Singapore. However, as the fugitive had elected to return of his own accord, that objection could now be removed.

CHINESE ECONOMIC FUTURE.

LOCAL CHINESE BANKERS ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The inaugural meeting of the Chinese Bankers Association of Hongkong held last Saturday, was well attended by representatives of the local Chinese banking institutions.

Mr. Liang Kwei Tien, Manager of the Bank of Communications and president of the Association, initiated the meeting with an address announcing the objects of the association in detail. He emphasised the fact that since the development of the Chinese banks and banking is still in the stage of infancy, perseverance and cooperative effort are very necessary in guiding it to a proper growth. He further said that the economic destiny of China lies in the hands of the Chinese bankers to-day.

Mr. Tsuyue Pei, Manager of the Bank of China and Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, who was mainly instrumental in bringing this organisation into being, said how earnestly he had hoped for the existence for such an association here some three years ago, and how pleased he was now in seeing his plans realized. He cited briefly the history of the development of the first association in Shanghai and how much it had accomplished since its inception. He pointed out the potentiality of such

CHILD ACTOR'S SUCCESS.

FINE PERFORMANCE WITH CHARLIE CHAPLIN.

The most noteworthy feature of Charlie Chaplin's masterpiece "The Kid" after the acting of the great comedian himself is the wonderful performance of the boy actor Jackie Coogan. During the nine months it took to produce this picture Chaplin had little Jackie with him always and in that time succeeded in making him probably the finest child exponent of real comedy the screen has ever known. Those who see him in this his first picture will watch Jackie Coogan's future career with interest.

organisations by demonstrating the works that similar institutions had done in solving the financial crisis which had just occurred in the North with the two Government banks.

Speeches made by representatives of different banks were characterised by much genuine patriotism and sincerity.

Similar associations are in existence in important trade centres like Tientsin, Hankow and Peking, where they have already made their influence felt in the country. The development of these organisations, it is understood, will not end their mission in regenerating international commerce.—Contributed.

THE LAW OF BLASTING.

CONTRACTORS SHOULD KNOW.

Inspector Browne of Yaumati Police Station charged a contractor before Magistrate Wood this morning with having carried out some blasting operations in Nathan Road at 5.05 p.m. yesterday, after the time allowed by the Ordinance.

The Inspector said that the time allowed by the Ordinance was between 12 noon and 12.30, and from 4.20 to 4.45 p.m., only.

The Magistrate enquired if it were not a common practice among contractors, of their own accord, to extend the afternoon time to 5 p.m. He had seen it done in various parts of the Colony often.

Inspector: That may be so, but it is unlawful.

He added that the other day he was at the station and distinctly heard blasting being carried on until as late as 5.20 p.m.

The Magistrate imposed a nominal fine of $1 and warned the defendant to keep to the "legal" time in future.

A GERM DESTROYER.

HERE is no danger whatever from lock jaw or blood poison resulting from a wound when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is promptly applied. NO PROOF.

BUT POLICE HAD INFORMATION.

The Chinese living at No. 2, Tam Lane, West Point, who was yesterday remanded on a charge of unlawful possession in his cubicle of two daggers, was again before Magistrate Lindell this morning.

The Magistrate, pointed out, to Inspector Wills, prosecuting, that unlike an opium case, in an arms case, it was not sufficient by merely finding in the house to prove possession. The weapon had to be brought home to the defendant.

Inspector Wills laid stress on the circumstances under which the weapons were found. He reminded the Magistrate that he raided the house as the result of information received that a robbery was about to be committed. Although he would admit that he could not bring the daggers home to the defendant, circumstances all went against him. Of course, if the Magistrate was going to discharge the defendant, he could not do so, but he was in a position to prove that the defendant was a bad character and an associate of bad characters.

The Magistrate said that possession had not been proved against the defendant and he must be discharged.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

TRAIN KILLS MAN AND PONY.

An unusual accident occurred on the railway lines at Kaulungohai yesterday morning. As a result, a Chinese was killed instantaneously.

The deceased, a government forester, was leading a pony along a path close to the line. As he neared the No. 9 Bridge, the 9.15 a.m. train from Samcheun suddenly rounded the curve at the approach of the Southface tunnel, some little distance away. The shrill whistle frightened the pony which bolted up the line towards the train, dragging the forester with it. The driver of the train had not seen the accident as the engine entered the tunnel. A collision occurred. The train dashed out of the other end at great speed, and was upon the pony before the driver noticed the obstruction. It was too late to apply the brake. The train ran into the pony, and dashed it with the forester against the embankment. The man suffered fracture of the right leg and arm, and dislocation of the neck. The pony was also killed. All four legs were broken.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

AFFAIRS AGAIN BEFORE SINGAPORE COURT.

Before Mr. Justice Barrett-Lennard in the Supreme Court Singapore, on December 6, an application was submitted by Mr. Mundell, on behalf of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, for a further postponement of the petition for the winding up.

Mr. G. S. Carver on behalf of a number of creditors consented to the further postponement. He said he understood that the French Government had the matter under consideration. Owing to the French Premier being absent in America, the matter had not been brought up in the French Parliament as yet, but the question would be brought up there within the next fortnight, when a definite decision was expected as to whether the French Government was going to support the Banque or not. He understood that the local manager would cable to the French Government and the authorities of the Banque saying that unless an authoritative statement was made it would become necessary to have the Banque wound up in Singapore regardless of the consequences.

Mr. Laycock, on behalf of other creditors, said his attitude was the same that day as it always had been. It was simply a question of evidence being produced to show the petitioning creditors that they were likely to be paid in full or in a satisfactory manner at an early date. Previously there had been no suggestion to that effect before the court. Now that there was some evidence that the French Government were going to take the matter up they were quite willing for the matter to stand over for a while.

Mr. Stevens, who represented creditors for 371,000 francs and $41,000, said his instructions were to identify himself with Mr. Mundell and Mr. Carver, but the adjournment should be only until something tangible was forthcoming.

Mr. Mundell said that M. Durnerin, whom he also represented, considered that the requests made by the creditors were only reasonable.

The application for the postponement for 14 days was granted by his Lordship on the understanding that no further application must be made unless there was definite evidence in support of it.

HOME TRADE.

MANCHESTER WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Messrs. James F. Hutton and Co., Ltd., Manchester, reported as follows on November 9:

The past week has again been notable for an entire absence of any encouraging features in the cotton markets. Business has been very restricted, and although rather better trade buying at one time led to a more confident tone, this has given way to a state of affairs in which realising predominates and the tendency of prices is to weaken. Varying private American crop estimates have but a momentary effect on sentiment, but the issue of the next ginning return is awaited with much interest. Statistically, it would seem that the position of the raw material is strong provided anything like the ordinary conditions prevail until the next crop is gathered; for whatever the actual total may prove to be for this crop, it certainly does not appear that the supply available will be very far in excess of even a moderate consumption. In addition to this a small crop such as the present one is inevitably a poor crop, as in fact this is generally reported to be, and consequently an increasing demand for the better grades would unquestionably lead to such a rapidly depleted supply that there would be a stiffening of values. Against these considerations however, the markets are faced with the fact of exchanges so low in consuming countries that it is difficult to see how consumption can be of even moderate dimensions. The further heavy fall in the value of the German mark emphasises this view, and under the circumstances it is not surprising that the tone of the markets is so dull. The yarn and cloth sections are in very much the same position as the cotton markets. Enquiry has shrunk to an almost negligible quantity and only occasional small quantities have been placed. There is very little change in prices, but if anything they are lower. The spasmodic nature of demand for the past few months has again brought the question of organized short time working into discussion, but no action in this direction has yet been taken. China is probably the best of the consuming outlets; all other markets being uniformly quiet. The Bank Rate is reduced to 6%.
